

Dealing with the Pluto/Galactic-Center Transit

Pluto, currently at 26 degrees, 45 seconds Sagittarius, has touched the galactic center in Sagittarius (center of Milky Way galaxy). This transit through Sagittarius and over the galactic center only happens once every 248 years and it is the first time it's happening in Sagittarius since the planet's 20th century discovery! This transit will take a good two years to clear the galactic center as Pluto moves across the center, retrograding back over, and then across again. Pluto crossing the galactic center is ushering a transformation on the planet and in ourselves that is both exhilarating and at the same time very painful and similar to birthing, depending on where you are in your own transformation and awareness process. This transformation is having a ripple effect through the cosmos, across the planet, and in each individual. The transformation is not anywhere near a smooth birth for many. If you haven't gotten in touch with your shadow side before now, you may not have the physical capacity to make the transitional birth that Pluto is forcing. If you've made an honest attempt to get in touch with your inner demons and prejudices, you may be finding the birthing process a little bumpy but at least you won't get blasted through the black birthing cavity. To explain this transformation further, a treatise on Pluto and galactic center energy is in order.

First, as an authority on the matter, I have had to deal with this galactic energy all my life. My sun sign is combust the galactic center at 27 degrees Sagittarius. I am here to help bring the new heaven to Earth and help anchor the cosmic energies at this particular time. I am also here to help bring a new consciousness to an unconscious planet. The galactic center energy demands that we live with integrity and with the awareness that life is more than our physical and mundane reality, a reality which must be sustained so that we can use it learn spiritual lessons for our next incarnation. The galactic center energy forces cosmic awareness by stimulating and rattling the human vibratory system. It is a highly nervous energy and when not soundly grounded, can cause great turbulence not only in the cosmos, but in the human body. The energy transforms the vibratory system so that it can function in the etheric and multidimensional realms of existence. If the energies in the body are not released and cleared, the body cannot function and cannot make the transition into multidimensionality. Instead, the body gets diseases and dies. This process can take years when the galactic energies are only subtly influencing us. But when combined with a powerful transit, such as the one occurring now in Pluto, the process affects the entire spectrum of social and geopolitical systems on the planet, as well as our own personal social mores and belief systems.

Galactic center energy has only recently been viewed by NASA. It is a turbulent black hole and also interdimensional. From the galactic center, life in this galaxy begins and ends. Recently, a NASA photograph showed a perpendicular DNA spiral forming out of the galactic cavity. It was an awesome sight and very exciting. The galactic center is the center of consciousness and conscience of the galaxy. Some call it the God force for the galaxy. Those with strong aspects to it in their charts will have many psychic and out-of-body experiences. They will also have very strong kundalini experiences. Above all, they will have a sense that not all is as it seems and a greater force is constantly prodding us like cattle into a hyper-awareness of the nature of reality.

Kundalini energy begins at the first chakra which roots you to the ground and works its way up to and through the top of your head. Kundalini energy must flow freely through the body to ride the galactic wave. When kundalini energy is stuck, it creates diseases such as cancer, heart attacks, and frenetic energy attacks known as panic attacks. During this Pluto/galactic center transformation, Pluto is forcing the kundalini energy to be released from the body. Pluto (which rules Scorpio) is associated with volcanoes and especially sexual energies that need to be transformed into a higher purpose (Sagittarius) and released. The kundalini energy in your body is like a volcano. If you are sitting on deep-rooted fears, anger or biases, and haven't resolved them, Pluto will force them out. If you have sexual issues, Pluto will force them to be released.

For those with sexual obsessions, the release is not pleasant for either the individuals involved or for those around them. The release manifests as rage, rape, war, abuse of power, and perversion. It is too late at this present time to deal with these issues gently. If you haven't dealt with them in the past, the release of energy will not be pleasant. The galactic center will not allow you to hide behind your shadow anymore. All will be revealed. Pluto, on the other hand, will not let you repress your rage and anger anymore and any deep-seated issues, secrets, or psychoses that have not been dealt with in the past will be forced to the surface for transformation. When Pluto transits the galactic center, the release of energy through the galactic black hole, or birthing cavity, will be as smooth or as difficult as your personal growth has been. If you willingly learned your life lessons without resistance, the transformation will be smooth. But if you resisted facing your dark side and your prejudices, and lived in denial of your shadow, you will not see the light at the end of the tunnel.

Some of you may find that as the kundalini energy is released, you will have diseases associated with each chakra center. This may manifest as inertia problems or loss of stamina and balance if you have not taken action against injustice (1st chakra); sexual dysfunction, power struggles or rage if you have not resolved your own power and control issues, which is where the majority of our religious and political leaders are stuck (2nd chakra); abnormal fears, stomach ailments or cancer if you have not confronted your fears (3rd chakra); severe heart palpitations or attacks if you have not opened your heart to those who suffer, which is where the rest of our dysfunctional religious and political leaders are stuck (4th chakra); loss of voice, choking, breathing problems or throat cancer if you have not communicated your feelings, spoken truthfully, or spoken out against injustice (5th chakra); eye problems, loss of sight, ear problems or loss of hearing if you have refused to see or hear the truth (6th chakra), and headaches or brain hemorrhages if you have refused to acknowledge the truth and are still in denial (7th chakra). Of course, if you're reading this page, you're probably one of those who have already dealt with many of your own demons and you won't have to deal with these more profound energy blocks.

Others may find that their bodies feel like they are vibrating or shaking uncontrollably, creating discomfort, anxiety, difficult sleep, and heart fibrillations. Our bodies are vibrating at a much faster pace than usual as our DNA is being changed to accommodate these new energies. This is the transformation! The personal issues associated with this transformation may be more mundane than the above and may include dealing with old unresolved family issues or with dysfunctional families who are out-of-control and on the attack. Additionally, you may find that you are losing consciousness for momentary periods of time and can't remember what you were doing when you were "gone" or where you were going when you came back. More and more, those whose bodies can adjust to the new energies will find themselves dealing with interdimensional energies and directives (8th chakra). But it still won't be easy. Galactic center energy is very powerful, very forceful, and very turbulent, and if you can't adjust your frequency and attitudes, and ride the transforming energy through the black hole, you may feel like you're on a wild bucking horse (Sagittarius), that just won't quit, and question your grip on reality.

The galactic center in Sagittarius rules religion, ethics, law, integrity, and higher learning. The Pluto - Galactic center aspect is forcing deep-rooted religious issues, social issues, political issues, ethical issues, legal issues, and philosophical issues to be resolved. It is also forcing unresolved 2nd-chakra power issues into the light, exposing the rot and vermin for purification. The geo-political situation is a good example of how this is manifesting. Resolution of the above issues on a global scale is extremely polarized and dangerous because those currently at the helm of political and religious policy are in the final playoffs of patriarchal pissing games and totally lack the cosmic integrity and ethics associated with cosmic consciousness. The last time Pluto was on the Galactic center was following the French and Indian War, in particular, "King George's War" (1744-1748), in which the British King captured a French Fort in Louisburg on Cape Breton Island, which gave entry to U.S. rivers. He then lost the Fort in a treaty. But to pay for the cost of his efforts, he later taxed the American colonies that had nothing to do with or any say in the war.

As a result, the colonies rebelled and determined that American policy must be managed in America and not by a monarchy with little interest in the welfare and future of the "new world." The result was the Declaration of Independence and the American Revolution, which led to our independence and our U.S. constitution. The patriarchal and monarchical prize at that time was imperialism and totalitarianism. The patriarchal and monarchical prize at this time is the same. Our U.S. "King George", a distant relative of Britain's royal monarchs, is attempting a repeat performance to control ports of access, monetary systems and political systems through wars and repression of those countries not aligned with his "new world" order. He did not need to tax the U.S. colonists for his wars; instead, he stole surpluses of tax money already in the coffers. His blatant theft, imperialism and totalitarianism are meant to benefit only a handful of his elite friends, leaving our country, once again, in the hands of those with little interest our welfare and future, at our expense.

But back to the galactic center, which is the reason for this diatribe; it does not subscribe to repression by governments or otherwise. It also does not support any one flavor of religion. It is the birthplace and the voice for "all" peoples. Cosmically, we are born free to create life; not to restrict and purposely kill it. So the religious and governmental wars by the patriarchs are bringing the worst of the vermin to a head like a festering viral boil.

However, there is good news on the political and religious front. While we are not quite there yet, the festering poison is coming to a head and the boil will soon burst. When it bursts, the fall of the controllers will be nasty and wreak havoc on the planet. But by then, Pluto will have begun its transit into Capricorn (ruled by Saturn) and all the rigid, restrictive, institutional man-made and religious structures of the last 248 years will have started imploding as they did following our nation's Declaration of Independence from the British monarchy and its institutions. It will mean being psychologically and spiritually prepared for major change and a major cleanup. Then, a rebuilding of structures, based on the galactic-center Sagittarian principles, will begin, culminating in a true "new world order" - the age of Aquarius. There will be a lot of work to be accomplished between now and then, but if you are aware and prepared for the impact you will make it. Our own planet Earth will move across the galactic center and equator around 2012 and a new heaven on Earth, based on equality and a balanced male/female paradigm will manifest.

In conclusion, this is not going to be an easy transformation for anyone. Even those who are aware and have been preparing for the changes all their lives (even lifetimes) will need to be very adaptive and very honest about their own intentions and motivations. But it can be done by being brave and confronting your demons. This will need to be done on a global scale as no human, no institution, no government, and no culture is immune. While it will be very difficult at this point if you haven't already begun to do this, it is still not impossible. With integrity and clarity you may still make it through the transformation. If not, at the very least you will have made the attempt and in that attempt it is intent that matters more than the final result.
