

The Shift Has Begun!

The shift in consciousness is in process, and the division between factions has become very clear, with the line in the sand now drawn. Boundaries have been set between two different paradigms: one for living and one for dying, and neutrality is not going to save you from the consequences anymore. If you haven't decided where you want to be when the shift propels you into a new paradigm, you will be moved by the force that is most aggressive; usually for the worst. The United States, in particular, is in for a very difficult ride. While the rest of the world watches in horror as we destroy every freedom and liberty that the country was built on, many people still refuse to wake up and see the truth. As a result, they will not find themselves in a very pleasant situation when push comes to shove by Christian fundamentalists who impose a new and very restrictive set of rules on individual freedom. And it will be too late.

Some are leaving the country; others are staying for the final battle and will be here to help save the soul of the country. San Francisco is the focal point for the new consciousness that will bring about a new heaven on Earth. Of all the cities in the country, it is the one that is most forward thinking and cutting edge; the one that sees beyond labels, color, religion, race, gender, death and destruction. It is the one city where the Matrix is thin enough to be penetrated. And many here have already penetrated it, which is why the fundamentals hate us so much. Our united consciousness is expanding beyond our city into many cities and states. Many have tuned in and many more spiritual warriors are awakening; but the battle on the Southern front and in our nation's capitol is going to be very ugly. The strategic plan for a counterinsurgency is to move with likeminded groups; gather where you can and spread the message to as many as possible in vulnerable areas. We are on the verge of losing our rights as humans and individuals, and the slave masters are getting ready to take their final war to the streets. You must choose your side now or you will get trampled in the backlash.

A civil war is beginning in this country; the likes of which we have not seen since the last time the South and North fought. It is happening again and this time what's at stake is our very right to freedom of expression, freewill, privacy, justice, and choice. There is no avoiding this battle. It is coming to a head right now. Even leaving the country does not make you safe as the Matrix controllers have a grip on every resource around the world. They just happen to be making their home and plans here in the U.S.

Are you ready for the end-time battle? Are you prepared to fight for your soul? Do you know where you stand on the issues? Are you of sound mind and spirit with your choices? The outcome may not be linear. Whether we physically live or die through this battle does not matter. Making the "choice" to live in an equal and just world is what matters in the long run. And it is that choice, and moving in that direction in thought, word, and deed, that will win the spiritual battle when all the dust settles. The outcome must be determined according to kind of world you want to leave for your children, and your children's children. And making this conscious decision now, and creating the accompanying vision, is the energy that will harmonically transform our reality for us, dividing the peacemakers from the warmongers through a vibratory energy shift. And ultimately, it is where our heart energy is, and in our ability to focus it, that will shift us into this new reality system. Be brave, be wise, be focused, and be smart!
