

Cancer New Moon: July 2, 2008 By Barbara Hand-Clow

Like dandelion seeds encased in silicate parachutes in a summer breeze, the New Moon in Cancer releases the power of the Summer Solstice into our conscious minds. Never forget that Cancer is the strongest sign in the zodiac, the sign that always wins by its sheer persistence-flowing water-and this lunation releases the feminine influence each summer. Whether we are in a male or female body, it guides us to awaken our most profound nurturance, and to remember how to protect our nests. Yet, during these accelerated times, we have almost lost the inborn ability to know how to protect our relations and our communities by means of nurturance. This is because the powers-that-be, the Global Elite, have used war for five thousand years as a tool to divide the people in order to control them. Now, in almost all countries, people believe they must go to war to protect themselves, which is absurd and insane.

As you know from the Summer Solstice reading, astrology is in total resonance right now with the Mayan Calendar cycles as discovered and interpreted by Carl Calleman and myself [See the Mayan Calendar: Transformation of Consciousness by Carl Johan Calleman, and The Mayan Code: Time Acceleration and Awakening the World Mind by Clow]. Based on Calleman's time-acceleration hypothesis plus astrology, my Summer Solstice reading posits that we have arrived at the moment when we can view war in a totally new way as a species; the possibility exists right now that a critical mass will demand that war must cease. But, this is only a possibility, since such a great shift in the collective mind would have to be a passionate group intention, a deep inner rising from within our hearts against the violence. Because of this magnificent potential that can be seen in the chart for the Summer Solstice, I will read the chart for the Cancer New Moon looking for ways we can each put survival of our species first. How could we create such a group intention?

I am alchemically active now because I can feel in every cell in my heart that peace is coming soon. Long ago, we reached this moment on the Pleiades, the point when we'd learned enough about how pain and violence separates us from the divine mind. Risking being the Fool, I'm putting myself on the line as an astrologer. As some of you might intuit, I actually have no more idea than anybody about how this could happen. So, I just flow in my life, asking spirit for the Way, and this often comes in the form of a book that just falls off the shelf. Well, I just got hit over the head by two versions of the same whopper book!

I had just ordered the rare and coveted English version of Why Mrs. Blake Cried, and then an American version came to me simultaneously from the US publisher (Inner Traditions/Bear), who had been smart enough to get the American rights on this European bestseller. The new edition is entitled William Blake's Sexual Path to Spiritual Vision and it is written by Marsha Keith Schuchard. Needless to say, this book coming unexpectedly to my door as I awaited the English edition sure got my attention.

But why would anybody want to read a book about old and moldy William Blake? Well, this book has extremely specific information about esoteric sexual practices that awaken multidimensionality and the power of the feminine. Many of you will be interested in this book because of its sexual information, but what had me riveted was its detailed political analysis of the esoteric sexual revolution that began right at the opening of the Planetary Underworld (AD 1755), which has become the juicy fuel (besides oil) for Global Elite agendas. For the last year, I have been reading anything I can get that elucidates cultural movements that began in 1755, which, of course, are now peaking during the last years of the Mayan Calendar. I want to understand how the Planetary Underworld created societal movements to process the many unfinished archetypes that arose during the National Underworld (3116 BC through AD 2011). This type of analysis is really the only way to shed light on the Galactic Underworld (AD 1999-2011) and on time acceleration, since time acceleration is so intense and blinding now.

Anyway, in Schuchard's book, previously hidden information about the sexual and alchemical circles of the Planetary Underworld is revealed, and these arcane circles are the key to understanding Global Elite global war agendas. Her scholarly examination of Blake's sexual/spiritual opening fully exposes what was going on in European esoteric, religious, and artistic circles that ended up inspiring sexually based political movements, one of which is Zionism, the movement that created the Israeli State in 1948.

According to Schuchard's analysis of William Blake's life, sexual/spiritual movements that came to life around AD 1755 intensified the dormant sexual issues of the National Underworld. Unconscious alchemical sexuality has evolved into a political movement that is the nexus of East/West tension, which is radically transforming global politics into a monster spiraling out of control. Specifically, stories about gods who came down and mated with human females lurk within the subconscious weeds of the National Underworld, when great temples and human bloodlines were formulated to bind these cosmic forces so they could be used for human power and control. Then, like a bomb going off during the 1755 time acceleration (Planetary Underworld), esoteric political and magical circles formulated the Global Elite, who think of themselves as gods. Astrologically, this cosmic melting pot-the logical end-point of male egotism-got all mixed up with the strange new vibrations that came in with the sighting of Uranus in 1789 and Neptune in 1821, the planets which have inspired humanity to spiritualize sexuality. This summer is the time to get conscious about this rich wellspring of our minds, hearts, and bodies, so that political forces cannot harvest our sexuality.

Of course, sex is great sport, and the ancient stories that suggest we have been sexually abused by the gods are being processed during the Galactic Underworld (1999-2011). This must happen because as long as these forces are invisible, the Global Elite uses human fear of bodily invasion to create endless war, for harvesting our personal energy in all ways.

This obscene manipulation has been building all the way through the Planetary Underworld, and now it is being exposed. For example, the public airing of Roman Catholic priestly abuse revealed that victims were especially traumatized because to them, the priests were god. Since many of you may not read about Blake, I will openly share what I got out of it, and at least you can have a good giggle. I do ask that you seriously consider what these arcane themes might have to do with this summer's main agenda-the end of organized warfare. This book helped me to see that all wars are fueled by male erectile dysfunction! This drooping complex cannot be solved by pills coming out of a bottle (the ultimate Genii), or by forcing boys to become men by sending them off to fight. Low male potency can only be resolved by the love and availability of the mother goddess! Men, you need to be home in all ways.

Regarding this New Moon and the summer in general, Goddesses, it is time to do your work, now! When you are in a conversation with someone who defends the Iraq war, or when you see tanks and weapons on TV, just visualize fully happy, erect, and energized males and send them your love. Phallic worship was always prominent in ancient sacred cultures, even though servants of religion have tried to wipe out the evidence. In other words, for thousands of years appreciation for the true male power was part of keeping the peace. So ladies, and you guys who are also longing for peace, use the great power of your mind this month to decode the central war knot-fear of impotence.

Speaking of the Catholic Church, one of the funniest things I ever heard Matthew Fox say was that the Catholic Church is the only organization on the planet that requires a penis for the job, and then once you get ordained, you can't use it! Also, ladies, you might want to add another thing to your list. It is time for a woman's movement against men being pressured into using drugs for potency, since potency needs to come from the heart. It is not a little package you open and a Genii comes out!

Well, it is about time to look at the chart for the Cancer New Moon, even though I've been fulfilling Cancer's desire to languor and talk about sex. We begin with the New Moon in 12 Cancer, which widely opposes Jupiter retrograde in 18 Capricorn that closely opposes Venus in 18 Cancer. This New Moon/Venus stellium is dedicated to nurturance and true protection, and the exact opposition from Jupiter specifies how to accomplish this aim. The full power of the feminine can be liberated in practical, high-minded ways by deeply masculine Jupiter in Capricorn, who reveals all the ethical ways to be supported in the material world. With our essential selves (Sun) united with our emotional bodies (Moon) and our feminine natures (Venus) in Cancer, we find the source of real power on Earth-the goddess in alignment with seed and birthing powers.

Yet, I noted that Jupiter in Capricorn in opposition reveals "ethical ways" to be supported. Well, this configuration also suggests a major agricultural crisis this summer. The deep ethical nature of Jupiter in Capricorn will inspire us to identify the places within ourselves that are causing nature to die. If we can face this exhausted death within, nature can regenerate instantaneously. How?

Many know that human emotions affect nature and create weather, which we all can see in Celtic stories of the good and bad king, such as the story of King Arthur. When the king is in resonance with spirit, nature blossoms and the kingdom is fruitful. When the king is an egotistical (impotent) little boy, nature becomes violent and the harvest is killed, such as in the Mississippi River drainage system in the USA. The American people were forced to choose the bad king by two Global Elite-rigged elections, so during this final year, the summer will bring full awareness of why the land is becoming barren.

Chiron is still traveling in retrograde, close to the lunar North Node in Aquarius, with retrograde Neptune also close by, and so the karmic agenda is transformative healing through spiritual awakening. This is the big theme all summer, and more and more of you are just going to follow your destinies and become healers when you see that otherwise Earth will die.

During 100,000 years of the Regional Underworld in healthy indigenous cultures, we were all the healers of our own bodies, emotions, minds, and spirits. We also used our personal knowledge to help our neighbors. The reason we now have the bad king is mostly because most people believe that somebody else will fix them. George W. Bush is the logical outcome of the mass surrender of personal responsibility for our health. Meanwhile, with Chiron and Neptune traveling with the North Node in Aquarius, great rends are tearing up allopathic medicine. Doctors will abandon their licenses, hospitals will close, insurance companies will go bankrupt, and the people will have to stop waiting in line to surrender their bodies and souls to Dr. Jekyll.

Uranus in 23 Pisces squares Mercury in 20 Gemini, which challenges us to bring compassion and transformation into our lives. Startling new ideas about the value of religion will come from all sides when more people realize they can be close to God without outside intervention. Venus in 18 Cancer trines Uranus in Pisces, so these revelations will be from the goddess. I discussed Dan Brown's work extensively in The Mayan Code, because he was the one who was able to awaken the public mind to the possibility that Mary Magdalene and Jesus were lovers in The DaVinci Code, even though many others had already considered this idea before. His earlier book, Angels and Demons, awakened millions of readers to the extent of Vatican global control and corruption. Soon, Dan Brown will awaken the public mind when Angels and Demons is released as a film. This film was delayed because the Vatican closed many filming sites to Brown, as well as by the Hollywood writer's strike. It will probably be released during early Day Six of the Galactic Underworld in November, exactly when the full awareness of Vatican control and corruption is expected to flood the public mind according to Mayan Calendar interpretation.

Mars continues to be a potent influence this summer. Recall that during the Summer Solstice, Mars was the head of a Yod from Jupiter/Moon sextile Uranus, and it was on the lunar South Node opposite Chiron/Neptune. The power of this configuration releases with the Cancer New Moon by means of Mars in Virgo conjunct Saturn in Virgo trine Pluto on the Galactic Center; using male energy correctly will be deeply transformative and structurally sound. Mars went into Virgo on July 1, just before the New Moon, and it will conjunct Saturn on July 10. This balanced and earthy conjunction in Virgo in good aspect to Pluto will help each one of us let go of old aggressive patterns and just turn to activating loving productive models in our lives. For example, Mars in Virgo with Saturn will inspire good-hearted soldiers to seek positive warrior modes, to even refuse to kill just for the pleasure of the Elite. There may be many battlefield desertions, but you will not hear about that.

Do not be limited in your imagination now! Mercury in 20 Gemini trines the lunar North Node in Aquarius conjunct Chiron/Neptune. You will have unusual awareness this month about the subtle planes and dimensions that are always working with you to create the reality you want. How? You can evolve in this atmosphere by looking for signs of this influence. And, Venus in Cancer quincunx the North Node/Chiron/Neptune will activate your deepest inner feminine intuition. You will just know from deep within what is right. Venus leads the charge to change the world this month, and her power in Cancer will inspire many to take courageous action.

For the last few months, Full Moons have been very strongly aspected and very intense. Many of you have been quite surprised by how you've felt and acted, since this is the beginning of feeling that we are not in control because our boundaries are being permeated by spirit, just as they were thousands of years ago. Needing a respite, the July Full Moon on July 18 does not show this intensity for us as individuals. But, if you compare it to the 1776 USA Founding Chart, it looks like much truth will come out regarding the Bushites, which could trigger them to take desperate measures to avoid getting caught with blood on their hands.

In the Full Moon chart: 1) Mercury in 13 Cancer is on the USA Sun, which means much exposure about American actions will come; 2) the Sun in 26 Cancer is on the USA Mercury, which means a mass awareness of how the politicians play their games is coming; 3) Venus in 7 Leo is on the USA lunar North Node, which means a feminine revelation of the negativity in USA karma is coming (most likely a maturation in understanding of the 1776 Mars in Gemini square Neptune in Virgo); and 4) the Full Moon in 26 Capricorn is on the USA Pluto, which means the people's emotions will boil up over the edge and much darkness will be seen.

At the very least, the USA will get a lot of attention (or create it) during the Full Moon in Capricorn on the USA Pluto. But, thankfully, as individuals, we will not be stirred up by more intensity at this time. So, enjoy the exquisite feminine unfolding during the month, and discover deeper ways to nurture yourself. Ultimately, your joy and happiness is the key to peace on Earth.
