

SACRED MANUSCRIPT OF K'ALTUN

When time had no age, Tepeu and Gugumatz emerged from the heavens as creators...as molders. Many times they met and, thanks to the harmony that surged between them, they took a great decision. They asked HUNAB K'U for the creation of the human being and of all the other forms of life on Mother Earth.

HUNAB K'U responded: "From my House in the heavens, I imagined all the creation on Earth. You will be the molders, the caretakers of what I will create." HUNAB K'U built his house with a pyramidal shape and, at the top, he set Huyubcaan and told him: "You will blow and everything will come into life." In this way, everything was created in the house of God in the heavens. HUNAB K'U placed the constellation of Orion in the center of his pyramidal house in the heavens, so that it could bear the great light, the great brilliance. This light was flushed with multiple colors that harmonized with the cosmic, celestial music of the heavens. HUNAB K'U decreed that the human being could spiritually enter this sacred temple forever.

All this was accomplished by HUNAB K'U in seven stages of time. He said to Tepeu and Gugumatz: "Stay together forever. You, Huyubcaan, will live at the top of my pyramid as will Tepeu and Gugumatz. Each of you will be a star."

HUNAB K'U continued: "Take care of the light that I will leave inside my temple. When you create the human beings, teach them to venerate my house, because there they will find the light they need for their eternal life. Also teach them that if they get lost, due to their errors, vices or ignorance, then I, HUNAB K'U, will reclaim my beloved beings and will take them to my temple of wisdom and feedback them again with my light which is in the heavens. Then, together, Tepeu, Gugumatz and Huyubcaan, and I will perform purification rituals using that brilliant light for the benefit of my beloved creatures, whom we created and molded, so they can live in the light of eternal wisdom."

This was done by the creators, the molders, before time was time. For this reason the Maya people always remained attentive, watching the heavens for thousands and thousands of years in order to understand the great law of HUNAB K'U. In his honor and full of respect, thousands of pyramids were built in many parts of the world and my ancestors, the Mayas, visited all of them. They traveled toward all the cardinal points, North, South, East and West. When they arrived in the province of Shensi, a group of pyramids was built there, one of this pyramids rising 300 meters. When they were in Tibet, the great white pyramid located along the Himalaya mountain range was built. In the forests of Cambodia the pyramid of Angkor was built and in Egypt another great pyramids were built, as was the case in many other countries over the world. All of these pyramidal temples were built when mankind lived in the light of cosmic wisdom.

In Wenk'al the Mayan priests reminded their people of the ancient prophecies of the Solar Grandmother, the X NUC K'IN, so they could understand their destiny. The X NUC K'IN prophesied: "It is written in time that a brother from a faraway land, beyond the sea, will come to awaken the Maya people, that remained asleep during the period of darkness. This brother will wear the colors of the sun, which will remind the Maya people of their ancient commitment with their solar creator. Only in this manner will the solar cosmic knowledge return to be shared again with all the other members of the sacred human race."

The human race will have to see, in the year 2001, the path of initiation on Earth and in Heaven, and watch a new HUNAB K'U's pyramidal house and, in spirit, visit Tepeu, Gugumatz and Huyubcaab. The human race may then be led into the house of God and together they will pray, meditate and work with the sacred light of the brightest star of Orion. Through this initiation they will be able to see the luminosity of the Great Spirit. When this spiritual initiation is completed in the house of HUNAB K'U in heaven, the spirit of each initiate will be illuminated.

Then, it will return to Earth to awaken its body and take it to the pyramids. Chichen Itza, Uxmal, K'aba, Edznah, Palenque, all of these sacred Mayan centers have a specific function in every part of the body to awaken the seven powers contained in it.

Only through the solar initiation can the sleeping body of mankind be awakened. The reincarnated teachers of the new age of Aquarius implore for the sacred human race to wake up, so that they can fulfill their sacred destiny of being the true sons and daughters of the cosmic light. The time of knowledge is approaching, the light in the center of the pyramidal house of Hunab K'u will flash like lightning that will pierce through the shadows that cover the human race. Let us prepare to receive the light of knowledge that comes from HUNAB K'U and transcend into the memory of the Creator and become beings of eternal luminosity.
